MEADOR--WILSON

Young Railroad Man Marries Pretty Girl--Wedding Took Place Here Yesterday.

Harvey Wilson and Miss Rue Meador were united in marriage by Father Bray at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wilson. The wedding took place yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock and the couple left in the afternoon for Louisville where they will make their home.

The groom is eighteen and the bride is just nineteen; they are as happy as they are young.

Mrs. Wilson is quite pretty indeed and is a Breckenridge county girl, her home being at Harrod. Mr. Wilson has a position with the L. & H. St. L. and has loads of ambition.

ANDREW KEYS

SUMMONED.

Old And Loved Citizen Of Breckenridge Dies At His Home Near Lodiburg--Church Member
A Half Century.

FATHER OF MRS. JOE FITCH.

Andrew Keys died at his home at Lodiburg Thursday morning. The funeral was held Friday at Walnut Grove Baptist church.

In the month of May the News published an interesting sketch of Mr. Keys life, which was filled with kindness not only for his family, but his friends. He was a well-known man over the county and had reached the ripe old age of 82 years.

The deceased is survived by the following children: Mrs. George French, Mrs. Joe Fitch, S. F. Keys, J. W. Keys, Andy J. Keys and H. O. Keys.

Six Empty Cars Brake Loose From Engine And Dash Into Passenger Train at Askins

MORRISON DIES OF INJURIES

Irvington, Ky., July 27. (Special)—One of the most terrible wrecks for years happened on the branch road at Askins near Fordsville, last Saturday afternoon six loose cars ran into the passenger train going into Fordsville. Dr. Morrison, the railroad physician, was summoned at once and found the brakeman, Mr. Morrison, in a dying condition, had Mr. Monahan, the section foreman, sent to the hospital, at Owensboro, and Mr. Chamberlain and Will Claycomb brought here where they are doing very nicely at the present. The remarkable thing of it all was there were no passengers injured at all.

Notice

All Mission money from Breckenridge Association should be sent before Aug. 25 to E. B. English, 509 Walnut St., Owensboro, Ky.

FIRST LOVE

Miss Mr. Cissina--Will Enter
Show Business Immediately
Has Written A Song.

George Cissina, who has been "people man" for the Cumberland Telephone Co., for two months or more, will leave the city soon to enter show business for which he has a natural talent. Mr. Cissina kindly assured the Epworth League in the Central and his show made a big hit. He has just written a song entitled, "Lemon", which will come from the pen at an early date.

Ten Dollar Rifle.

In the list of donations for Masons Antelope, Conrad, Payne & Co., gave a Winchester rifle. By an oversight their name was left off the large posters.

Mr. Lucas Hurt.

Mr. Lucas, the accommodating and liked man, who works for H. L. Stader, was sick by a horse this week and was painfully hurt.

MARY JANE

TAKES WATER

Beautiful Boat Built by Cloverport Foundry and Machine Company Launched Saturday.

NOT A SINGLE MISAP OCCURS

Saturday evening, as the sun in all its setting splendor had said good-night over the hill to the west of the city, the beautiful pleasure boat "MARY JANE" named for the little Misses Mary Pate and Jane Lightfoot, daughters of J. W. Pate and Dr. F. L. Lightfoot, was launched. As she glided majestically on the bosom of the Ohio, the owners, J. W. Pate, Dr. F. L. Lightfoot and Fred Frazer, realized all they had wished for.

The Mary Jane is as pretty a piece of workmanship as will be seen anywhere. Finished beautifully inside and out and equipped with one of the latest and best patterned of Fairbanks-Morse Marine engines, and an Auto-steering gear, which places the boat under the complete control of one man. She has an 18 horsepower, 3 cylinder, 2 cycle, 3 port engine and with a length of 30 feet and a width of 6 feet 7 inches makes a speed of 10 miles an hour in dead water. She has 6 wicker chairs and 6 folding chairs in front and seats for 8 people in the rear making a total seating capacity of 20. The above mentioned corporation should be congratulated on turning out a piece of work of this kind.

Casper Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Casper, sons-in-law, daughters and daughters-in-law held a family reunion on Monday of last week. The occasion was the home-coming of Drs. J. J. James, Mich and family from Louisville. Dr. John Casper and family came over from Jasper and Mr. and Mrs. August Heck and two children were already here from St. Louis. They sat down to a most deliciously prepared dinner and supper which all greatly enjoyed. Out of this family are three physicians and one dentist. The senior Mr. Casper is a partner in the largest dry goods concern in Cannelton and president of the Cannelton State Bank. His eldest son, Mich, is a leading physician in Louisville. Another son, John, is practicing medicine at Jasper and is rapidly coming to the front. Jim, another son, graduated in dentistry in Louisville over a year ago, and is practicing his profession there. He has one more term of lectures at Louisville before he graduates. He is now located at St. Mary's and Elizabeth's hospital there. Mr. and Mrs. Casper have one daughter and two sons who live at home here. Besides the immediate members of the family, Mrs. Mary Burke, of Leopold, mother of Mrs. Casper was present and will spend a month with them--Cannelton Telephone.

HARDINSBURG.

Congressman Ben Johnson And
M. C. Rankin, Commissioner of Agriculture, Will Attend Barbecue.

GREAT CROWD EXPECTED.

August 7 will be the greatest day and the greatest picnic ever known at the County capital.

As advertised in this issue of the News, the barbecue will furnish splendid speakers, fine dinner and refreshments and grand entertainments.

Will Run Excursion.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will run an excursion from here to Hawesville and Cannelton Friday night, July 30. They will have music and refreshments and a jolly good time in general. Everyone should take advantage of the first river excursion of the season and go along and help this worthy cause.

Mr. Ed. English Sick.

The friends of Mr. Ed. English are very sorry over his sudden illness. He has been suffering from throat trouble for several weeks.

JUNIORS LOSE

SECOND CONTEST

Young Bunch of Balltossers From County Seat Take Locals Into Camp to the Tune of 8 to 7.

PUMPKIN ROLLERS DEFEATED IN EXTRA INNING GAME.

The second game between the Hardinsburg and Cloverport Junior teams was played on the local diamond last Saturday morning. As the teams are almost evenly matched it was an exciting game from start to finish, the visitors, however, took the long end of an 8 to 7 score. The Hardinsburg boys won the game on their own merits, putting up a little classic article that was the home boys.

Tucker did the twisting for the locals and had the game clinched until the seventh when Tucker became rattled and soared into loftier atmosphere. In this inning the visitors annexed the necessary runs. Jabine was sent in to pitch the remainder of the game and held the visitors safe. Hook and Hohen pitched a good game for the visitors. Both were hit freely but kept the hits well scattered and were effective in tight places.

10 Inning Game.

A large crowd of enthusiastic fans witnessed the game between the Tobinsburg Pumpkin Rollers and the Hardinsburg Regulars on the Tobinsburg lot Saturday afternoon. The game went to the regulars by the score of 11 to 6, after a hard, ten-inning struggle. The Regulars bunched hits in the tenth and sent three runners across home plate.

Whitehead pitched the sort of ball that will win nine times out of ten, but was given very poor support by his team-mates. The Regulars scoring the majority of their runs on errors. Putsch pitched seven innings for the Regulars, being replaced by Brown, whose benders were a puzzle to the Pumpkin Rollers.

Pumpkin Rollers Down Dexter.

Sunday afternoon the Pumpkin Rollers completely outclassed the team from Dexter, Ind., winning easily by score of 9 to 4. Esray and Bassinger were the opposing pitchers.

Coca-Colas Win and Lose

Large crowds attended both games between the Coca-Cola team from Owensboro, and the Hardinsburg nine at the Hardinsburg Athletic Park Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The Coca-Colas won the first game easily by the score of 9 to 4. Thursday with the aid of a Portland Battery the Hardinsburg boys wallowed them by the score of 7 to 0.

Look Here! 21 to 4.

Enraged by their defeat on the previous day, the Cloverport Juniors took delight in administering the most cruel punishment on the Junior nine on the north side of the river Sunday afternoon. The game was one-sided from the beginning. The final count was 21 to 4. Tucker pitched for the locals.

Baltow Defeats Blue Belts

Baltow put the rollers under the Blue Belts by a score of 14 to 15. The game will be returned to the Baltow boys on August 8. Baltow will make a fine diamond on the farm of G. P. Burdett. Let everybody come on August 8. A good game and a good time.

Giants Win.

In a game full of thrills and excitement the Cloverport Giants, colored, defeated Hawesville's Best Sunday afternoon. Score 17 to 15.

CAMP MEETING

ECCENTRIC WOMAN

PASSES AWAY.

Mrs. Sanders Dead--She Loved
The News and Was A Frequent Visitor To The Office--Always Had A Word Of Encouragement.

DEATH SERIOUSLY REGRETTED.

Mrs. Amanda Sanders died at the home of her son, James Sanders, at Pisgah, Sunday afternoon. She was a most eccentric character, unusual in ways and ideas. Before her health failed, she came to town always once a week and she had many loyal friends in Cloverport.

Mrs. Sanders was born in this county and was sixty-three years of age. She was the widow of James Sanders and is survived by three sons, James, Will and Owen Sanders.

The remains were interred at Pisgah.

Dr. Ball Here.

Dr. Robert J. Ball, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., was here Monday the guest of friends, enroute to his home at Hardinsburg.

The Republican County Committee met in Hardinsburg last Saturday for the purpose of naming time, place and manner of selecting candidates for the various county offices. All precincts were represented in person or by proxy save two. There was also a good attendance of Republicans outside of the committee. There was perfect harmony good feeling and a desire on the part of all present to do the best thing for the party and select the best men for the office.

The Hon. John P. Haswell, Jr., county chairman, in calling the convention to order said that he was glad to see so large a crowd present. It is an indication that the great party we represent is in splendid shape for the business that is before us. Never saw the party in finer shape and just so sure as November comes our party will take possession of the offices in this Court House. Breckenridge county is a Republican county and the policies of our great leaders, Lincoln, Roosevelt and Taft have made her so. We are the dominant party in Kentucky now and she will remain that way if we put up good men for the offices. It is now up to Breckenridge county to do her part. If she does not do it she does not deserve the name of Republican. I shall not take the position of "boss" in the selection of the men. Select your own candidates and see that absolute fairness obtains in their selection. Select good men and my word for it you will win in November. Mr. Haswell's speech seemed to stir the boys up and his speech was loudly applauded.

Secretary, Allen R. Kincheloe, called the roll of members. All the precincts were represented except two.

The Hon. Chas. H. Hensley was in favor of making the meeting executive, one excluding all Democrats. Not that he disliked Democrats or meant any disrespect to them but he thought it the proper thing to have only known Republicans present.

Herbert Beard was on his feet at once and said he was opposed to the motion. He said they expected to get a whole lot of Democrats in November and he was opposed to treating them so discourteously so early in the season.

He said some of the speakers were members of the committee and had no voice in the meeting.

The Chair ruled that this was a meeting of Republicans and all had a right to express their views. He wanted the cooperation of all Republicans in Breckenridge county and expressions of their views was all right. He overruled the point of order.

Amel Oelze was in favor of an open meeting and offered a motion to that effect which was carried.

John Eskridge, of Haden, made a motion that conventions be held in all precincts to name delegates to a county convention.

Mr. Oelze favored this motion and suggested that the time be the third Saturday in August for the precinct conventions and the fourth Monday for the county convention.

Mr. Ball wanted the time set for 2 o'clock so there would be no chance for a snap convention.

On motion the time for precinct conventions was set for Saturday Aug. 21, at 2 o'clock p. m. and county convention Monday, Aug. 23 at 2 o'clock.

ARE OUR ROADS TOO WIDE?

German Highways Narrower, but Better Maintained, Says a Consul.

The following information concerning the superiority of the highways of Germany as compared with those of the United States is furnished by Robert J. Thompson, consul at Hanover.

German roads are perhaps subjected to a hundred times more traffic than similar roads in the United States. These roads range from twenty to thirty feet in width, while in our middle and western states, where traffic is comparatively light, we take land of an average value of $100 per acre and cut it up with roadways sixty-six feet in width, practically two-thirds of the same being given over to woods, which furnish an inexhaustible supply of seeds for the adjoining farm lands. The farmer in Germany who has conquered the weeds on his ground need have no thought of them being started again from uncultivated or uncared for land along the roadways. There are no weeds, no mud, no chuck holes, no sand stretches in the roads.

One of the simplest and most practical measures that could be taken for the betterment of roads in the United States would be to reduce their width to from one-third to one-half of what they now are.

In the United States public highways in the states given below may be estimated as follows: Minnesota, 81,000; Wisconsin, 60,000; Michigan, 81,000; Iowa, 70,000; Kansas, 70,000; Nebraska, 50,000; Missouri, 80,000; Illinois, 80,000; Indiana, 70,000; Ohio, 81,000; total, 700,000 miles. Reducing the width of these public highways, which now average sixty-six feet, to thirty-six feet would give back to the farmers of these states for cultivation 2,500,000 acres of generally tillable land, which at an average valuation of $100 per acre would mean the restoration to the producing values of the states named of $250,000,000.

A Hint to the Housewife.

For the careful housewife intent upon detecting adulterants in foods the following hint from the Scientist American may be acceptable. It is a test for determining the amount of copper used as coloring matter in canned peas, and, while perhaps not so simple as tasting a bit on a spoon or wetting a finger and holding in the breeze, the experiment readily may be carried out in any household fitted with a $10.00 laboratory properly equipped. Here it is:

"The quantity of copper may be determined by incinerating the vegetables, leaching the ash with nitric acid, evaporating to dryness, dissolving the residue in hydrochloric acid, neutralizing the solution with ammonia, acidifying it slightly with hydrochloric acid and precipitating the copper with zinc in a vessel of platinum." Do you think you'll try it?

The American Youth.

If the truth were told most young American men are not especially interesting. They do not keep up their reading. They have a national obduracy when it comes to music, to art, to literature, nor do many of them take any of these things at all seriously. The young among them are not good conversationalists. Our cleverest men are monologists pure and simple. They lecture admirably. They are born orators along modified lines. They are inevitable story tellers. None of this is conversation, and women like conversation, like its courtesies, which at least pretend a little interest when their turn comes in the game. Knowledge of people and affairs outside our own country pricks more than one bubble about our young men.—Anna A. Rogers in Atlantic.

WHERE THE NEWS STANDS.

We have no apologies to make in hoisting the Democratic ticket at the head of our columns. Existing conditions warrant this statement. Men are above party and politics, especially in county affairs. Our aim has always been to support the best men for the offices regardless of party. We have heeded to this line on more than one occasion. It gives us especial pleasure at this time to support the ticket named by the Democrats for the reason that they are all good, clean men and worthy. The cry of all men of all parties has been and is for good men, reliable men, sober men, honest men to fill our offices. For more than thirty years now we have had something to do with the naming of the men who have filled our county offices. Sometimes, our men have been chosen and some defeated. Not in all these years, has any party put up a better, cleaner, finer set of men than has been named by the Democrats, and appears at the head of our columns. All men, rich and poor, high and low, can vote for this ticket.

The thing for the voters to do, who believe in good men for the offices is to get in line and work for this ticket.

Our good friend, Geo. W. Dodson, of Fyrmire, sends us a communication endorsing Senator R. W. Owen, another good friend for a certain vote he cast while in the Senate on an Insurance Bill. Mr. Dodson takes the position that Senator Owen voted against the farmer's interest in supporting this bill. We have never seen or read the bill and know nothing about it. Mr. Owen says he don't remember voting for such a bill. If he did he was not aware at the time that it in any way affected the interests of the farmers. He says further that it would hardly be natural for him to cast a vote that would in any way affect the farmer, as he is a farmer, born and reared on the farm and their interest is his and always has been. Mr. Owen says all men are liable to make mistakes and if he made a mistake in this matter it was clearly an oversight and he is sorry for it.

We know that in Dick Owen the farmers never had a better friend. His dealings are all with the farmers and it is not his nature to go against them in anything that is all right and just.

We think Mr. Dodson is wrong in centuring Mr. Owen and that he is not fully acquainted with the merits of the bill or of Mr. Owen's vote.

Mrs. Brown, the Chaplain, Gives An Interesting Account of Peruna.

MRS. MARY M. BROWN.

Mrs. Mary M. Brown, President of the W. R. C. T. U. of East Providence, R. I., is also Chaplain Woman's Relief Corps, and Past Department President of the W. M. C. of the State of Rhode Island. This prominent lady writes an open letter to suffering women all over the United States. Her letter is as follows:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.
Gentlemen—Socially as well as officially, I meet a large number of women, old and young; bright, intelligent women who do their own thinking and form their own opinions. You will therefore be pleased to know that Peruna is a favorite remedy among women, and that it is generally considered superior to any prescription known in cases of catarrh and weakness peculiar to the sex. I have had occasion several times in cases of cold and depression to use Peruna and have found it very effectual.

Stories With a Flavor of the Soil.

Uncle Joe Williams Swallows a Peach Stone.

Last Saturday night as dark as it was Uncle Joe Williams, our jailer, and Squire Quince Johnson, the Magistrate in District No. 6 went out in the northwest part of the county on a peach stealing expedition. Quince was the pilot and steered his companion to Mr. Edelin's orchard where the trees were bending under a load of the luscious fruit. Both men had to feel for the peaches as it was too dark to see them. Uncle Joe was eating at the same time he was filling his basket. Finally Quince noticed that Uncle Joe's arms were going around like he had a fit. He called to him but there was no response. Finally he got hold of him and inquired what was the matter. In a few minutes Uncle Joe seemed to come to and had recovered his voice. He had gotten a whole peach in his mouth at once and it disturbed his false teeth. In his struggle not to swallow his teeth he swallowed the peach seed. They got home shortly before day, Uncle Joe refusing to talk to his companion. He said at last: "Quince, I have got that stone down but how am I to digest it? Quince told him that his experience was that whiskey would digest anything Uncle Joe tried a pint. It seemed to go to his head instead of his stomach and he has still got that peach seed. When we last saw him he was going around to the doctors to find something to take that would dissolve a peach stone.—Elizabethtown News.

Cow Test.

The State Board of Health has issued a sweeping proclamation, requiring every cow in the State to be subjected to the tuberculin test, ordering the immediate destruction of those which the test shows to be infected with tuberculosis, and providing that no cattle can hereafter be brought into the State until the tuberculin test has been shown that they are free from tuberculosis. Experiments conducted by Dr. Cyrus W. Field, bacteriologist and pathologist of the University of Louisville, under the direction of a milk commission appointed by the Jefferson County Fiscal Court, resulted in this recommendation, which is intended to protect the health of the consumers of milk, who might otherwise, be infected with tuberculosis from cattle.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Cloverport People Should Learn

To Detect The Approach Of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's Disease, or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Cloverport proof: John H. Wills, judge of police court, High St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "I have no hesitation in pronouncing Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy I know for the purposes for which their use is intended. I take pleasure in recommending them to other persons who may be suffering from diseased kidneys. I will be pleased to answer any questions about Doan's Kidney Pills at any time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlhenny Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THOUSANDS

Will Attend The Big Democratic Barbecue at Louisville.

Promoters of the big Jeffersonian barbecue which is to be given by the Fifth District Democracy on the State Fair grounds in Louisville on August 25 and 26 have selected former Mayor Charles F. Grainger as the general chairman of the executive and all sub-committees, and the announcement is made that Mr. Grainger has accepted. The promoters have not only secured the fair grounds for the big event, but have arranged with all the railroads for a rate to Louisville that will be the cheapest that has been in force in Kentucky for years. The rate will enable Democrats from the most remote sections of the state to visit the metropolis. Invitations are being prepared now and will be sent out immediately to all the Democratic members of Kentucky's delegation in Congress, also to Democratic nominees for both branches of the General Assembly. All will be present and during the two days it is planned to have speeches by not less than 100 of the state's crack Democratic orators. Some of the do-

FEARED TOTAL LOSS OF HAIR

Scalp had been Scaly for Some Time - After an Attack of Typhoid - Fever his Hair Began to Fall Out by the Handful - Now it is

THICKER THAN EVER THANKS TO CUTICURA

"About two years ago I was troubled with my head being scaly, like dandruff but heavier - although I washed my head once a week and used many ointments, but no trouble such as itching or smarting and I never noticed any falling of the hair. But shortly after that I had an attack of typhoid fever and I was out of the hospital several months when I first noticed the loss of hair, my scalp being still scaly. I started to use a dandruff cure to no effect whatever. And I used a quinine preparation quite freely which did no good either. Whether it was the effect of the fever or some scalp disease I don't know, but I had actually lost hopes of saving any hair at all. I had to go to bed and lay there helpless. It got so bad that I didn't need to be told if any man - I was afraid to. My brother, who had used the Cuticura Remedies with satisfaction, advised me to try them. After using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and getting a box of Cuticura Ointment, the change was surprising. My scalp is now clear and healthy as could be and my hair thicker than ever, whereas six months ago I had my mind made up to be bald in a short time. I had a photograph taken later and send you a copy of it. It shows the difference. Pittsburgh, Penn., May 7 and 21, '08."

Warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, assisted when necessary by Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills), afford instant relief in the most distressing forms of itching humors, eczema, eruptions, eruptions, irritations and chafings of infancy and childhood, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy and permanent cure, in the majority of cases, when all other remedies fail.

Cuticura (the Ointment), Cuticura (the Soap) and Cuticura Resolvent (the Pills) are sold everywhere. Put on a clean cloth. Sold by Dr. J. C. NOLTE & BRO., 112 Columbia Ave., Baltimore, Md. Write for Circulars and Skin Diseases.

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md. - "For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends. - Mrs. W. S. FORD, 1825 Latrobe St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and today is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed to give relief.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

POLLY of the CIRCUS

BY MARGARET MAYO
COPYRIGHT, 1935, BY DODD, MEAD AND COMPANY

CHAPTER XIV.
THE "clap of death" implements were being carried from the ring, and Jim turned away to superintend the loading.
Performers again rushed by each other on their way to and from the main tent.

Polly stood in the center of the lot frowning and anxious. The mere notion of the pastor's name had made it seem impossible for her to ride to night. For hours she had been wiping herself up to the point of doing it, and now her courage failed her. She followed Barker as he came from the ring.

"Mr. Barker, please!"
He turned upon her sharply.
"Well, what is it now?"

"If I want to ask you to let me out again tonight," she spoke to a short, jerky, desperate way.

"What?" he shrieked. "Not go into the ring, with all them people inside what's paid their money because they knowed you?"

"That's it," she cried. "I can't! I can't!"

"You're getting too long!" Barker sneered. "That's the trouble with you. You ain't been good for nothin' since you was at that parson's house. You didn't stay there, and you're no use here. First thing you know you'll be out all round."

"Out?"
"Sure. You don't think I'm going to head my bill with a dead one, do you?"

"I am not a dead one," she answered excitedly. "I'm the best rider you've had since mother died. You've said so yourself."

"That was afore you got in with them church cranks. You talk about your mother! Why, she'd be ashamed to own you."

"She wouldn't," cried Polly. Her eyes were flashing, her face was scarlet. The pride of hundreds of years of ancestry was quivering with indignation. "I can ride as well as I ever could, and I'll do it too. I'll do it tomorrow."

"Tomorrow?" echoed Barker. "What do you mean by that?"

"I mean that I can't go into that ring tonight," she declared, "and I won't."

"She was desperate now and trading upon a strength beyond her own."

He looked at her with momentary indecision. She was a good rider, the best since her mother, as he had often told her. He could see this meant an issue. He felt she would be on her mettle tomorrow, as far as her work was concerned, if he let her alone tonight.

"All right," he said sullenly. "You can stay off tonight. I got the crowd in there anyway, and I got their money. I'll let Eloise do a turn on Barbarian, but tomorrow you'd better show me your old act."

"I'll show you!" she cried. "I'll show you!"

"Well, see that you do." He crossed into the ring.

Polly stood where Barker had left her, white and tense. Jim came toward her from the direction of the wagons. He glanced at her uneasily. "What's he been sayin' to you?"

"He says I can't ride any more."

Her lips closed tightly. She stared straight ahead of her. "He says I was no good to the people that took me in and I'm no use here."

"It's not so," thundered Jim.

"No, it's not," she cried. "I'll show him. Jim! I'll show him tomorrow!"

She turned toward the dressing tent. Jim caught her firmly by the wrist.

"Wait, Polly. You ain't ever got into the ring a-feelin' that way." Her eyes met his defiantly.

"What's the difference? What's the difference?" She wrenched her wrist quickly from him and ran into the dressing tent, laughing hysterically.

"An' I bring her back to it," murmured Jim as he turned to give orders to the property men.

Most of the "first half props" were loaded, and some of the men were asleep under the wagons. The lot was clear. Suddenly he felt some one approaching from the back of the enclosure. He turned and found himself face to face with the stern, solitary figure of the pastor, wrapped in his long black cloak. The moonlight slipped through a rift in the clouds and fell into a circle around them.

"What made you come here?" was all Jim said.

"I heard that Miss Polly didn't ride today. I was afraid she might be ill."

"What's that to you?"

"She isn't ill?" Douglas demanded anxiously, oblivious to the gruffness in the big fellow's voice.

"She's all right," Jim answered shortly as he shifted uneasily from one foot to the other and avoided the pastor's burning gaze.

"And she's happy, she's content?"

"Sure."

"I'm glad," said Douglas duly. He tried to think of some way to prolong their talk. "I've never heard from her, you know."

"Us folks don't get much time to write." Jim turned away and began tinkering with one of the wagons. Douglas had walked up and down in

Often The Kidneys Are

Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys must, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

sophisticated, and he teetered after the ditting angel, even into the forbidden portals of the big top.

He was peeping through the curtains which had fallen behind her and was getting his first glimpse of the growl sawdust world beyond when one of the clowns dashed from the dressing tent on his way to the ring.

The clown was late. He saw the limp coatails of the deacon, who was three-quarters in the tent. Here was a chance to make a funny entrance.

He grabbed the unsuspecting little man from the rear. The terrified deacon struck out blindly in all directions, his black arms and legs moving like a centipede's, but the clown held him firmly by the back and thrust him headfirst into the tent.

Strong returned almost immediately from his unsuccessful search for the pastor. He looked about the lot for Elverson.

"He's not here," he called loudly.

"Where's he?"

"He'll be comin' out soon. You can wait around out here with me. I'll wait tonight in time." He led the way through a narrow passage between the wagons.

Jim and Douglas had barely left the lot when Deacon Elverson's small round head slipped cautiously around the corner of the dressing tent. The little deacon glanced excitedly about him. He was monarch of all he surveyed.

WAGONS HAD.

"Never mind, Bingo," she said, patting his great, arched neck. "We'll show 'em tomorrow." He rubbed his satiny nose against her cheek. "We'll make them sit up again. Barker says our act's no good—that I've let down. But it's not your fault, Bingo. I've not been fair to you. I'll give you a chance tomorrow. You wait. He'll never say it again, Bingo, never again!"

Polly had nothing more to do to-night except to get into her street clothes. The wigwag would soon be moving away. For a moment she glanced at the dark church steeple; then she turned to go inside the tent. A deep, familiar voice stopped her.

"Polly!"

She turned quickly. She could not answer. Douglas came toward her. He gazed at her in amazement. She drew her cape about her slightly clad figure. She seemed older to him, more unapproachable with her hair heaped high and sparkling with jewels.

She found strength at last to open her lips, but still no sound came from her. She and the pastor looked at each other strangely, like spirits newly met from far apart worlds. She, too, thought her companion changed. He was older, the circles beneath his eyes were deeper, the look in their depths more grave.

"We were such close neighbors to-night, I rather thought you'd call," he stammered. He was uncertain what he was saying. It did not matter to her. She was there with her.

"When you're in a circus there isn't much time for calling."

"That's why I've come to call on you." They might have been shepherd and sheepdog on a May day wooing for the halting way in which their words came.

"You're all right?" he went on.

"You're happy?"

"Yes, very," she said. Her eyes were downcast.

"He did not believe her. The effort in her voice, her drawn, white face, belied her words. How could he get the truth from her?"

"Jim said you might not want to see me."

She started.

"Has Jim been talking to you?"

"Yes, but I didn't let him stop me, for you told me the day you left that you'd never change. I heard me. Have you, Polly?" He studied her anxiously.

"Why, no, of course not," she said evasively.

"And you'll be quite frank when I ask you something?"

"Yes, of course." She was growing more and more uneasy. She glanced about for a way of escape.

"Why did you leave me as you did?"

"I told you then." She tried to cross toward the dressing tent.

He for her small wrists and forced her to look at him.

"And I am not happy without you, and I never, never can be." The floodgates were open. His eyes were aglow. He bent toward her eagerly.

"Oh, you mustn't!" she begged.

"You've grown so close," he cried, "so close." She struggled to be free. He did not heed her. "You know, you must know, what I mean." He drew her toward him and forced her into an embrace. "You're more precious to me than all else on this earth."

For the first time he saw the extreme pallor on her face. He felt her growing limp and lifeless in his arms. A doubt crossed his mind. "If I am wrong in thinking you feel as I do, if you honestly care for all this, if you glanced about at the tents, more than for any life that I can give you, I

She tried not to meet his eyes nor yet to send him away. She stood irresolute. The voice of Deacon Strong answered for her.

"So you're here, are you?"

"Yes, Deacon Strong. I'm here," answered the pastor as he turned to meet the accusing eyes of the deacon.

"Has your father been continual strong with an insolent nod toward Polly. I might have known how you'd keep your part of the bargain."
